

THE PROTECTIVE PREMIUM

VOLUME 1 - THE BEGINNING

EXTRACTS

Excerpt 1 Volume 1 :

After all, she had just been elected Sovereign of the Kingdom of the Sages and more precisely Centre Vie « Life Center » Protector Premium about two months ago, on the very day of her twenty years, then would she have enough wisdom to handle the situation ?

Even if in his family each Premium Protector died around the age of forty for various motives such as wars, mysterious diseases or sudden deaths, and left the power to his descendant who was about twenty years old at that time, this situation remained in a way incongruous. However, the young woman could not escape her lineage that required her to take over.

Following the death of her father she found herself genetically to be the worthy substitute,

But how could this really serve as a guarantee ?

Excerpt 2 Volume 1:

Centre Vie must be able to have all possible weapons in the face of the threat. You need to know that this Vial contains more white magic than thousands of magicians could ever hold them all together.

— And why is it you who take on this mission ?

A legitimate question that she was happy to hear from him. He wasn't going to drive anyone to this extraordinary artifact, which remained highly reassuring.

— Because I'm the Protective Prime, John, she said with all the countenance she could.

— I suspected it! he smiled before resuming his seriousness. Your powers have been described to me at Rochana and I perceived certain things in you (...)

You master several magics.
